

Does your boat insurance company offer coverage for these gaps? Travelers does.

▶ Boat Insurance Gap #1: Mechanical Breakdown Coverage

It's a calm day on the open water. Just you, the seagulls and the occasional buoy. As you reach cruising speed, your outboard engine draws in plastic debris, interrupting the flow of cooling water and causing your engine to overheat and sustain substantial damage. Are you covered? Not all boat insurance companies offer mechanical breakdown coverage. Travelers does.

▶ Boat Insurance Gap #2: Salvage Coverage

You're taking friends for a ride across the bay. You hear a loud crunching sound and realize you've run over a submerged object. Now you're taking on water and the vessel begins to sink. One of the rescue boats that patrols the area rushes to the scene to pump out the water and then tows you to the marina. The bill is enormous. Are you covered? Not all boat insurance companies offer salvage coverage. Travelers does.

▶ Boat Insurance Gap #3: Wreck Removal

You go down to the dock to check on your boat following a storm. When you get there, you discover the slip is empty and your boat has sunk. Are you covered? Not all boat insurance companies offer the wreck removal coverage you need. You know you have insurance on the boat, but did you know you will be financially responsible for the cost of raising your boat from the bottom and removing the wreckage? Travelers does.
